TOMY Company, Ltd. (Representative Director, President & COO: Kazuhiro Kojima, headquarters: Katsushika-ku, Tokyo) announced that "PAW Patrol Word Book" (SRP: JPY 11,000/tax included), an educational picture book, is to be launched on Saturday, November 12, 2022, at toy stores, toy sections of department stores/mass retailers in Japan, online stores, TOMY Company's official online store Takara Tomy Mall (takaratomymall.jp/shop), and more, in succession.

"PAW Patrol Word Book" lets children learn vocabulary with their "PAW Patrol" pals by touching related illustrations in a picture book with a stylus. With over 1,100 Japanese vocabulary words, 960 English vocabulary words, and 230 character voice recordings, this picture book is filled with content for first-time language learners. Together with the characters, children can learn not only the names of words, but basic vocabulary needed in learning and everyday life across 21 themes that include "Daily Greetings" and "Annual Events and Days of the Week" contained within a total of 39 pages. Children can also learn how to make not only simple sentences but more complex sentences to explain the situation, such as "Chase reads a book" and "Marshall rides in the car" by connecting words together. In addition to normal quizzes where children look for items within the picture book, there is the rescue quiz in "On a roll Mode" that lets children experience the unique world of "PAW Patrol" and have fun as they think up ways to deal with problems.

TOMY Company has led the market since the cartoon was first broadcast by expanding sales of products developed overseas, such as "vehicle play sets" and "stuffed toys," and, with over 130 different types of products to date, our sales in this market have continued growing steadily since launch, with a sales base that has more than tripled since the first year on a shipment basis. This picture book was developed to meet demand for an educational toy that also supports make-believe play using the unique and expressive "vehicles" and "playsets" that are part of PAW Patrol's appeal. Not only can this book be used for many years throughout a child's growth, starting from when they first start learning words, but the illustrations and abundant use of voice recordings make children feel as though they are learning together with their favorite "PAW Patrol" characters. Having fun while increasing vocabulary helps expand the child's world and communication with their families.

A rich vocabulary is often said to be a guarantee of academic success in elementary school. This toy is designed for children to learn basic vocabulary that they will need to know for daily life and learning, all while playing with their favorite characters. Children turn the pages like a picture book with a story and tap the words and illustrations with the stylus, which helps them naturally develop basic vocabulary and learning skills. There is also the rescue quiz in "On a roll Mode", which requires judgment on how to deal with trouble when it happens, which helps children consider the relationship between cause and effect. This is good thinking practice.
